

J. Anderson Harris

Columbia, SC 29201

Jah30@email.sc.edu

973-771-8009

John-anderson-harris.com

He/They

Education

Ph.D., 2nd year, Philosophy, University of South Carolina, Graduate Assistant, In Progress

B.A., Philosophy/Political Science, Temple University Cum Laude, Distinction in Major, Spring 2020

Primary Interests

American Philosophy, Pragmatism, Philosophy of Emotion

Teaching

Teaching Assistant:

Engineering Ethics, University of South Carolina, Fall 2020, Spring 2021

Communicating Moral Issues, University of South Carolina, Fall 2021, Spring 2022

Talks

“Craft, Surface, and Function: An Interpretation of Kant’s Notion of Adherent Beauty,”

Symposium for Undergraduate Research and Creativity, Temple University, Spring 2020

Grants

Diamond Research Scholars, Temple University, “Craft, Surface, and Function: An Interpretation of Kant’s Notion of Adherent Beauty,” Summer-Fall 2019

Departmental Service

Graduate Representative, Spring 2022

Undergraduate Philosophy Club Graduate Representative, Spring 2022

Philosophy Department Colloquium Committee, University of South Carolina, Fall 2021

Honors Alumni Undergraduate Mentor, Temple University Fall 2020-Spring 2021

Undergraduate Summer Reading Group Leader, Temple University 2017-2020

Discipline Service

Chair, “Smith and Spinoza” Colloquium, Eastern APA 2021

Relevant Work Experience

Temple Option Essay Admissions Grader, Temple University 2018-2020

Communications Intern, Mayor’s Office of Education, Philadelphia, Spring 2018-Fall 2018