

J. Anderson Harris

Columbia, SC 29201

Jah30@email.sc.edu

973-771-8009

John-anderson-harris.com

He/They

Education

Ph.D., 3rd year, Philosophy, University of South Carolina, Graduate Assistant, In Progress

B.A., Philosophy/Political Science, Temple University Cum Laude, Distinction in Major, Spring 2020

Primary Interests

Pragmatism, Philosophy of Emotion

Teaching

Instructor of Record:

Communicating Moral Issues, University of South Carolina, Fall 2022

Teaching Assistant:

Engineering Ethics, University of South Carolina, Fall 2020, Spring 2021

Communicating Moral Issues, University of South Carolina, Fall 2021, Spring 2022

Talks

“Dewey, Scientific Inquiry, and Emotion”

Southeastern Roundtable on Philosophy of the Americas, Fall 2022

“Emotional Inquiry: The Role of Emotion in Dewey’s Theory of Inquiry”

Summer Institute in American Philosophy, Summer 2022

“Craft, Surface, and Function: An Interpretation of Kant’s Notion of Adherent Beauty,”

Symposium for Undergraduate Research and Creativity, Temple University, Spring 2020

Grants

Diamond Research Scholars, “Craft, Surface, and Function: An Interpretation of Kant’s Notion of

Adherent Beauty,” Temple University, Summer-Fall 2019

Departmental Service

Organizer of the Graduate Student Works in Progress Talks Series

University of South Carolina, Fall 2022-Current

Graduate Student Representative

University of South Carolina, Spring 2022-Current

Undergraduate Philosophy Club Graduate Representative

University of South Carolina, Spring 2022-Current

Philosophy Department Colloquium Committee Member

University of South Carolina, Fall 2021

Honors Alumni Undergraduate Mentor

Temple University, Fall 2020-Spring 2021

Discipline Service

Chair, "Smith and Spinoza" Colloquium

Eastern APA, 2021

Relevant Work Experience

Temple Option Essay Admissions Grader

Temple University, 2018-2020

Communications Intern

Mayor's Office of Education, Philadelphia, Spring 2018-Fall 2018